Colorado's Mountain Air Ranch Avoids Fire Threat

On Thursday, August 15, 2019 Oliver B. Ellsworth wrote to us: "A fire started this afternoon south and, unfortunately, downhill of Mountain Air Ranch at Deer Creek Canyon Park. It has burned about 13 acres as of this hour (11 pm). 300 homes evacuated but none lost yet. Ironically the fire broke out right across Deer Creek Canyon Road from a fire station.

The winds are currently in our favor and they hope to get it under control tonight. I have had no word from MAR. I tried to contact Glenda and Dave who live over the gatehouse, but no response from either phone. For now, I suppose no news is good news."

Follow-up on Fri, Aug 16: "The fire is now 100% contained and all evacuees are being allowed back in. Police are looking for two juveniles who may have started the fire. Mountain Air is fine." - Oliver

Living Waters Spa Closes after 16 Years near Palm Springs

9/9/2019 – The last AANR-affiliated club in Palm Spring has closed its doors after 16 years. Living Waters Spa, a clothing-optional hotel/spa in Desert Hot Springs owned by Jeffrey & Judith Bowman has been sold to new owners and will become a rehab facility effective this past weekend. It will no longer be clothing-optional according to the Living Water Facebook page:

From our opening day in 2003 to our selling day in September 2019 we had people from all walks of life and professionals, from every state in the US, and from all major world continents, come and experienced what LWS became famous for: pure mineral water pools, magical messages, and an unparalleled clothing-optional experience. It was our joy to help Americans learn that being nude isn't being lewd.

It is our plan to open a unique AirBnB in our home. We'll be notifying [people] via email when we open.

Our thanks to all who made this possible,

Jeff & Judy

This is the second clothing-optional resort in the Palm Springs area to close in the past two months. In August, we wrote that the new Terra Cotta Inn, open for just a year, had gone through a quick sale due to the illness of the owner. It will no longer be clothing optional.

However, just last week we learned that the Tuscany Manor Resort, also in Palm Springs, was converting to clothing-optional use as of September 13 for "couples and single women over age 21." No pets, and no smoking. Some of the staff from Terra Cotta are rumored to be moving there but this is not yet confirmed.

According to its web site, Tuscany Manor has 22 units and is located at 350 West Chino Canyon Road, Palm Springs CA 92262. Their direct phone number is 760-656-7283. Don Clark is the General Manager. We have not yet spoken to him about AANR affiliation.

Utah's Wasatch Naturist Club Hosts Annual Naturist Campout

By Michael Thiriot, President

The first weekend in August, Wasatch Naturists held their annual naturist camp out. The location was on private property in the mountains near Park City. We had 16 people attend, and it was a fun camping trip. We spent some time skinny dipping in the pond, nude hiking, and enjoyed some good food. One of our members grilled salmon for everyone, and it was a highlight of the trip.

The property is fenced to keep free range cows out, but somehow a few cows got in. So we had an unexpected adventure - naked cow herding! The group spent about a half hour walking through the brush, trying to herd the cows out through the gate. None of us had any prior experience dealing with cows, but we got them out without any problems.

If you haven't been on a naturist camp out, we highly recommend it. It's one of our favorite activities.

SCNA Wins Back Coveted Club Trophy at Summer Games

By Rolf Holbach, President

After four long years, SCNA finally won back the first place club trophy at the annual Southern California Nude Summer Games held at Olive Dell Ranch (ODR) on Sat, August 10.

Second place went to the team from Olive Dell Ranch and third place went to NitOC, the Orange County nudist group.

There were 59 athletes from five different nudist clubs who participated in the eight games, which were played in and around the Olive Dell pool and in the bowl below the clubhouse. There were probably another 50 or so people who watched and cheered their teams on.

The games began with the ODR Team, last year's champions, marching the cup back up to the stage in a proud procession.

Those wishing to participate signed up and got a number inked onto their shoulder so the winners could be easily identified by name and affiliated club at the end of each event.

Our first game is one of the most popular, the Water Cup Relay. The second game was the Baton Pool Relay followed by the Hula Hoop Pass. The last game before the lunch break was the Inner Tube Pool Relay.

About an hour later we started back up with the hilarious Pool Noodle Race, and then got everyone back in the pool for the Pool Noodle Javelin Toss. We then moved down to the bowl for the popular Water Balloon Toss, and the Frisbee Toss.

The 9th event was the traditional Pudding Toss (just like it sounds) where we kids of all ages let out our frustrations on each other with a choice of chocolate or vanilla in a friendly exchange of gooey delight.

The Games were started by SCNA at the former Deer Park resort in 2012 as part of Nude Recreation Week and have since become a traditional annual event in Southern California.

After all the points were tallied, the first place Individual Winner went to Trace Register of Olive Dell with 16 points. Second place went to Ron Mercer of NitOC with 15 points, and third place was awarded to Scott Schmitz of the SCNA with 14 points. But the individual achievements did not change the aggregate results as SCNA won with total score of 115 points! Second place went to Olive Dell with 92 points, and NitOC took third with a total score of 84.

The difference this year was participation! Whether you end up on a first, second, or third place team in any event, you end up earning points for your team, even if you only participate in one game!

After the awards ceremony, ODR managers Bobby & Becki Kilborn served up a delicious dinner of BBQ'd pork strips, coleslaw, roasted red potatoes, salad, dinner roll, and an awesome homemade cherry cupcake!

We also want to thank Olive Dell and their volunteers for doing a great job in hosting this annual event. We hope even more nearby clubs will send members to compete next year!

Free the Nipple Rally Draws Smaller Crowd This Year at Venice Beach

Sunday, Aug 25, 2019 -This was the 12th annual Go Topless Day march at Venice Beach but it was my first. The 2-mile protest walk is held every year to promote gender equality by advocating that anywhere men can go without shirts, women should be legally able to also.

Starting about 1:00 pm, an estimated 200 people marched peacefully down the Venice boardwalk, but there were far more onlookers, news people, and religious protesters than there were marchers. I estimate only about two dozen women and half that many men were in the actual parade. I was told last year about 30-40 women participated, so I don't know why this one was smaller.

A very vocal religious group heckled us the entire route, but they were mostly drowned out by the other onlookers and passersby. The Go Topless marchers deliberately never engaged the hecklers, and so their shouts and chants went for naught.

The website for GoTopless.org said we needed to wear pasties as the County Parks and Recreation Department oversees the boardwalk where we marched, and nudity is specifically illegal there. But we all wore either pasties or Band-Aids across our nipples, so law enforcement allowed the event.

We walked down the path probably about 1/3 mile and then ended up on a grassy hill where the news media started to interview the participants. I was interviewed by someone from GoTopless for their website.

I was told the Go Topless event was held in several other states across America on the same day, which commemorates the day the right for women to vote was ratified in August 1920.

The above two stories were reprinted from the SCNA Newsletter with permission.

Labor Day Weekend a “Hopping Success” at Lupin

By Cindy Gregory, Special Events and Marketing Hostess

Labor Day weekend at Lupin was hopping, with campers and Yurt occupants and day visitors enjoying the sunshine, the pool, hot tub, sauna, hiking trails, outdoor games and good food in the restaurant.

We kicked off the weekend with fun card games and knitting in the Lounge on Friday and then on Saturday Bill led us in Be-Naked Yoga at 11 am. On Saturday evening Tangerine and Moonbeam deejayed the Balloon Dance which was very well attended with folks having balloons on them and under them and above them.

The winner of the most creative display of balloons was Patty H.

Sunday morning Bill led us into the last summer holiday meditation at 11 am. At 6 pm, "Insight Out the Naked Truth" was heard on the internet radio show at www.amfm247.com.

This weekly show plays in over eight states on NPR stations as well as directly through the Internet. Errol and Rochelle provide a funny and insightful view of life with characters and music. If you haven't heard these shows give a listen! Monday, Labor Day, had Bare-B-Que at the restaurant and lots of outdoor and indoor sports: water volleyball, tennis, ping pong billiards and darts.

A special thanks to Norma Jean for all the work she puts in to selecting the appropriate music, creating the right atmosphere and providing the perfect cake for the Birthday/Anniversary Dances.

Delegate's meet at AANR Convention

AANR Trustees Decide to Raise Member Dues Effective January 1

By Gary Mussell, AANR-West President

The Board of Trustees for the American Association for Nude Recreation (AANR) met August 11-16 at their annual convention and made several important decisions affection all members.

The meeting attracted nearly 100 people to the Sun Meadow Nudist resort in Worley, Idaho. The fourteen elected Trustees, seven representing clubs of various sizes, and seven representing each of the seven geographic regions from Canada, the US, and Mexico, heard testimony from several of its important subcommittees including, among many others, its education foundation, public relations, women's rights, and membership marketing.

The Trustees have been working these past several years to implement a replacement for the association's database that will allow the main office to provide services much more quickly.

As of January 1 when the new software goes "live", will be the ability to renew a membership directly online (currently new members may join on line but they have to renew by mail) and also print their own membership cards instead of waiting for the main office to mail them out .

There will also be many ways for club presidents to access their club data and the regional presidents will be able to query their members and send target email or newsletters directly to members in a targeted area.

The ability to have people renew automatically each year is built-in but that feature will not go live until later in 2020 as there are still some procedures to work out.

Everyone agreed to new member program looked easy to use and is a vast improvement over the current 30-year old DOS-based software now in use.

We will be writing more about how to use this new system in future newsletters.

The other major topic discussed at the convention was the continued deficit spending by the association in order to provide service in all the areas that our membership demands. Two major decisions were made:

First, all memberships will now be individual; no more couples memberships. This will save countless hours in the min office as they have to spend many hours each week figuring out couple relationships.

Second, there will be $6/year dues increase effective January 1 so that the association will stop bleeding away its reserves in order to run things. There has not been a dues increase in over 10 years and the increase actually keeps pace with changes in the cost of living index over that time as the costs of everything continue to rise.

Also at the convention, several prizes and awards were given to different clubs and individuals. Paul LeValley, coordinator for the American Nudist Research Library in Kissimmee, Florida, was elected to the AANR Hall of Fame, as was the late Robert Campbell who served for years as AANR's Financial Chair.

Three $1500 scholarships were awarded to three college-bound young naturists.

Best small club Newsletter was again awarded to the Southern California Nudist Association (SCNA), and the Best Website designed by a non-professional went to Hangin Loose in Hawaii.

The host club, Sun Meadow, is a beautiful 80-acre nudist park with a small hotel and 150 RV sites, plus numerous places to dry camp. The club provided breakfast, lunch, and dinners, all deliciously prepared. Each night there was music entertainment in the clubhouse with excellent local guest musicians.

Sun Meadows hosted several fun workshops during the time we were there from Making Balloon animals to Creating Tie-dyed shirts.

AANR hosted several workshops themselves. One panel focused on Women in Nude Recreation issues and another discussed the issues and concerns of non-landed travel clubs.

Each night also saw a wine and cheese reception that was sponsored by different local clubs for the northwest region. They also hosted a silent and not-so-silent auction where the biggest prizes were free stays at different nudist resorts around the country and a homemade Nude-opoly Game (all the properties and Chance/Community Chest cards were nudist-related) which finally went for $350 after a furious bidding war,

AANR West Secretary Andy Walden presents Best Club Web Site Award to Hangin' Loose club owners Michael and Janet Smith in Hawaii.

Government Affairs (GAT) Report

Deputies Pay Surprise Visit to Bates Beach Picnic

By Gary Mussell

Late in the afternoon of Sat, Aug 24, nude beachgoers at Bates Beach near Carpinteria, CA saw a park ranger's SUV driving down the sand towards them. They all got dressed before four sheriff deputies got out of the vehicle to remind everyone nudity was still illegal and to stay dressed. There had been no problems with other beachgoers that day, but the police said they had a complaint, so the nudists remained dressed.

This was the first time in several years such a large group of officers had come down at once and that concerned the nudist leaders. About an hour later a large drone came and hovered over the nudist area for about 15 minutes.

On Monday, we called the local County Supervisor's office to see if there was an unannounced change in the verbal agreement which had given nudists permission to use that stretch of the beach.

A few days later I met with the Supervisor's Deputy, who was new to the area. We spent much of the hour getting the deputy up to speed. She seems very supportive. She also thought the drone was "a bit much." Further, she agreed she would make sure I was aware of any/all complaints she received about the nudists.

Later that day, I learned the park's guard who has lived in the trailer above our beach recently retired and a new person just took over about a month ago. This coincided with when the complaints began. I suggested the supervisor should call this guy so that he understands police are to be called only when our Ambassadors call in an incident, for lewd behavior, or something major going on and not just for nudity in the designated area.

I put out an email alert telling people to "continue to enjoy the beach but be respectful of those around you and always comply with law enforcement."

And that is where things stand going into the first full weekend of September.

The Government Affairs Committee has been informed but no additional action has been recommended.

New Trails Created for Sept 22 Bare Booty 5K Run at De Anza Springs

The De Anza Springs Bare Booty 5K is one of three nude runs in California (along with GE, and Olive Dell). This is a rare opportunity to experience a scenic desert trail, with breath taking views of the Anza-Borrego State Park, dressed as nature had intended.

Club volunteers have been working for the past few months to extend the hiking trail that will be used for the run. The challenge was to find a new path through the desert without disturbing the fragile eco system. No living plants were disturbed in this process. Planning was needed, as any false trails may take years to recover. The trail will be used as a running course, so steep descents and ascents had to be avoided. The new route also maximizes the amazing desert views.

The initial trail work progressed well during the winter last year. In spring, heavy rains in Southern California resulted in a "super bloom" causing the trail to become buried beneath a carpet of desert flowers. (We were reminded of the power of Mother Nature as She can obliterate anything man can create!)

After a few months we found the desert flowers were – alas – just temporary, and a little work uncovered the trail again. The trail is almost ready for our runners to experience. Please join us Sunday, September 22 for our annual 5K event.

Family Naturism: Let's Just All Get Naked

By Nick & Lins. Reprinted with permission.

We are always surprised when we receive the question whether naturism can be practiced with the whole family. For us, family naturism has always seemed a very normal thing. Although neither of us was born in a naturist family. Yet there seem to be many doubts about this. We are asked whether we find it okay that a child sees nude adults and whether nude kids won't attract people with wrong intentions. Some adults even seem to feel uncomfortable being naked when there are children around.

It's all in the mindset of course. And it's everybody's right to feel about family nudism the way they do. Nevertheless, we believe that nudist families are a very important part of the naturist community and that it has lots of advantages for both the children as their parents. We're certainly not the only ones who think so. Naturist federations all over the world see the importance of having families among their members and promote naturism as a very family-oriented lifestyle. In the USA and Canada we even noticed that many resorts have put their main focus on nudist families and promote themselves as family oriented. They even put it in their name. A good example is Bare Oaks Family Naturist Park. Even the first naturist venues were often called a family nudist colony.

Growing Up in Nudist Families

Children are born nudists and not only in the way that they are obviously born naked. We've met few little kids who prefer to wear pants over no pants at all. And the sight of nude children has also become a widely accepted thing. They or their family don't have to be nudists for that. On a warm summer day you'll see nude kids running around on many textile beaches as well. Until a certain age of course. Sometime between the age of 3 and 6 they lose their clothing optional status. Suddenly their nudity is not decent anymore. Suddenly they are taught to consider their bodies shameful.

Not in a nudist family of course. Although their kids also have to learn to get dressed when necessary, they also learn that being naked is a natural thing. That the nude body is certainly nothing to be ashamed of. While they can't be nude everywhere anymore like they used to, nudity remains common at home or while visiting nudist family camps, resorts, clubs or nude beaches.

Teaching children that their body is not shameful will often prove helpful when they enter puberty.

That's not the only important lesson. Because nudist children are used to see nude adults, they also have a much better reference to what a/their body is supposed to look than kids who only see nudity on the internet. And we shouldn't be silly about this, every five-year-old these days knows better how to work a tablet or a smartphone than their grandparents. Did you really think that one day or another they won't find out about the amount of nudity there is to find online?

Naked Wanderings Blog

Going on A Family Nude Vacation

Many people who don't particularly consider themselves nudists or naturists do enjoy a day at the nude beach or a vacation at a nudist resort. So does the family home nudist as well of course. And then come the concerns. Common nudity within the family happens in a very safe environment. But how do we know that all those strangers have the same intentions? We understand that those who have never visited a family nudist resort might think that the presence of a bunch of nude children must seem very attractive to pedophiles.

The reality is different of course. The number of reported cases about child abuse at nudist resorts is little to none. Certainly, much less than in schools, at playgrounds or in churches. Why is this? First of all, people with wrong intentions need to have the upper hand, the power. The vulnerability that comes with being nude makes them reluctant to visit nudist resorts. Another important factor is the social control which happens at family nudist resorts. Naturists watch each other's back and certainly the back of each other's children. When an adult shows too much interest in the kids, someone will certainly notice this and take action.

The advantages are also not only theirs. Many naturist resorts organize family nudist events or activities which are great opportunities to do something fun with the kids. And then we don't even mention the lack of mountains of dirty laundry.

Nudism Without the Families

Not everyone appreciates family nudist resorts. If you were planning a relaxed afternoon of nude sunbathing at the pool, those wild and free kids may not be your preferred companions. During our travels we've also met lots of nudists who don't like to be surrounded by children during their vacations. Thus we have seen the rise of adults only nudist resorts.

In the past, the term "adults only" was enough to trigger a couple of alarm bells. When we notice those words in movies or magazines, they often imply that things can be seen which are not for the eyes of minors. "adults only" combined with nudism could only mean one thing... And it's not for just the nudity. However, in the textile vacation industry, we notice more and more resorts who prefer to cater only to adults, but for different reasons. Some want to guarantee the peace and quiet for their guests, some don't want to hassle with passports when serving alcohol and some wish to cater precisely for those who prefer not to be surrounded by children.

While the nudist families are often not that happy that their children are not allowed at a certain nudist resort, those without kids don't like to be forced to only visit family friendly nudist resorts either. We believe that there's nothing wrong with providing options for every kind of nudist.

More than ever we like to take photos and it has never been easier to do so. Our smartphone alone has two cameras and can store thousands of snapshots. While photography used to be strictly forbidden at nudist places, it's becoming very difficult to keep enforcing that rule. We're on a vacation and if we don't come back with at least several hundreds of selfies it will seem like we had the worst holiday ever.

The general rule at nudist resorts is that you should never take pictures of other people without them knowing. And especially not of other people's children. Of course, it's something difficult to avoid, your kid has made a bunch of new friends, chances are high that they'll make the selfie themselves while you're having a nap next to the pool.

It's important to handle these photos with care and to know that if you decide to publish them online, you'll have no idea where they might end up. We've said that the nudist resort is a safe place for nude families, the internet certainly is not.

Let's all get our families nude

We hope that we've been able to convince you that family nudism is a safe and fun lifestyle with lots of advantages for both the children and their parents. It even goes a bit further. Family nudism is also a way to protect the future of nudism in general. Although some children tend to turn away from the naturist lifestyle when they enter the awkward years, the memory will last and often they will return when they're in their twenties or thirties.

Would You Like to Host a Future AANR-West Board Meeting?

Our region needs clubs to host one of our two Board of Directors meetings during 2020 (one meeting is in March and one is in November, usually on a Saturday from 9 am to 5 pm). We need space for 12-15 people and a room to hold our meeting. Hosts don't need to be a landed resort. We would love to visit your club and meet your members, enjoy your food, and participate in your weekly events!

We also need a landed club to host our 4-day annual convention in late July, which is a bigger deal, but we can talk about what is involved when you contact us at information@aanr-west.org
